

HALLOWEEN 2001 ISLAND THEMED COSTUME PARTY PROCLAMATION

LARRY AND SUE BARNHART, the party of the first part - hereby known as "The Party" are formally requesting the undersigned, party of the second part - hereby known as "The Accused" to attend the 5th annual Barnhart HALLOWEEN COSTUME PARTY to be held at 1515 HAYNES AVE. on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2001 from 7:00 UNTIL ? P.M. This Costume Party shall have an ISLAND THEME. Costumes having an island flair, and food items with an Island slant shall receive top consideration in winning prizes.

Whereas "The Accused" do understand that in SIGNING this proclamation, and submitting it to "The Party" upon arriving at the party, they are AGREEING TO ABIDE BY THE FOLLOWING RULES:

1. There shall be no desserts containing bird heads and hairballs to be presented and served in a cat litter pan.
2. There shall be no people dressed in flaming yellow condoms of any sort, be they ribbed, with tickler heads or otherwise.
3. Theresa Thompson, though encouraged to bring as many food dishes as she would like, shall only qualify for one food contest prize, no matter how many of her food dishes are voted in the top three.
4. There shall be no showing of buttocks by any person dressed in a Scottish skirt. Actually, there shall be no showing of buttocks, period.
5. There shall be no costumes, which require leaving animal droppings on the living room floor, Mike.
6. There shall be no grabbing of more than 1 cream puff (providing that cream puffs are presented) by any partygoers under severe penalty of being beaten about the head and shoulders with another dessert.
7. There shall be no desserts presented in the form of a club.
8. Anyone arriving as a couch and end table must be upholstered in island themed material in keeping with the spirit of the event.
9. Anyone who can not attend the party without being hooked to an intravenous feed tube, shall have that intravenous liquid tested for banned substances such as EPO.
10. "The Accused" realizes that the hostess has the right to severely injure, perhaps maiming for life, anyone that comes in attire that is not befitting the spirit of the intent of all these rules.
11. "The Accused" understands that these rules are in addition to, not in place of, rules from previous parties. Now let us review some of those previous party rules:
  - No fruits or vegetables dangling from any body part.
  - No dead cat costumes of any sort.
  - No dresses shall be worn by anyone that has not shaved their legs within the past 3 years.
  - No cheating during the voting process for best dessert, Terry, Lee, Tom.

There shall be PRIZES given to those wearing the BEST "ISLAND THEMED" COSTUMES, both male and female.

There shall be PRIZES given to those that submit THE TOP 3 "ISLAND THEMED" HORS D' OEUVRES AND/OR DESSERTS - Spam is NOT considered an Island food, in case that's what you were thinking.

This year there shall be a SPECIAL PRIZE given to the guest who brings the BEST "MURPH-O-LANTERN" (carved pineapple) to the party.

Anyone not coming in costume shall be forced to judge those who are. Not to mention that they shall be ridiculed behind their backs and looked at in a scornful manor by those of us in appropriate Halloween attire.

WE, "THE ACCUSED" DO UNDERSTAND AND AGREE TO ABIDE BY THE ABOVE RULES.

SIGNED _____ DATED THIS _____ DAY OF OCTOBER 2001.
